> SHANGRAI AUTUMN RACE MEETING, 1889.

The following account of the Shaughai Autumn Meeting is summarised from Shanghai FIRST DAY, 4th November

A cold wind and passing clouds, sometimes low and heavy enough to be almost threatening, seem to have discouraged some of the intending a ectetors, for the attendance of foreigners and Chinese alike was decidedly smaller than usual. The new stand for Chinese Indies at the Leongfei gate was very sparsely patronised: Rain-having kept off, the course was in capital more unfavourable conditions, so far as regarded order and the times made were quite up to the weather, then the previous one, but there was average. The leviathan stable allowed its com- somewhat more spirit evinced in the proceedpetitors to carry off three out of the eight races, ings than on the opening day. The sport was Mr. Sassoon winning, without much popular re- quite up to the mark, and though Sassoon's cognition, the first three races, the Jockey Cup, stable carried off the two big events, the St. Leger and the Racing Stakes. In this last Zephyr and the Stakes, the contests were keener heled by half a length. At the Monument Visiwas considered an absolute "moral," but the good throughout, and the wins more evenly distri- tation took second place and a good race home old Orlande made him gallop. Near those buildings was the store-house, where the explosion took place, with a great deal of military stores, such as rifles, swords, cartridges, oils of different kinds, and a deal of kerosone. 'A' distance from this was another store with a goo deal of powder and dynamite in it, and behind all, towards the east, are the machine shops. About II p.m. on the 19th an explosion occurred, blowing the first mentioned store up entirely, and setting fire to it. In all the above-named houses all windows; doors, and greater part of the roofs and callings were broken in; all lamps smashed and a great deal of damage done. It was, fortunately, a dead calm; if the powder and dynamite godown had exploded all the Arsenal would have been destroyed, and the most part of the town of Twatutia besides: No body dared come near the fire on account of the constant small explosions and for fear of more serious ones: besides that. I do not believe that they have a fire-engine in the whole place. Both Mr. Butler and the Chinese Director happened to be absent, but arrived in the course of the night from Tamsui. H.E. the Governor watched the fire from the city wall and a grand sight it was; for instance, when the rockets took fire and shot up in all directions. The cause of the fire is unknown. The damage is. I hear, esti-insted to be about $300,000. Towards morning the fire burned itself out Small fires in the adjacent houses, caused by the broken, burning, kerosene lamps, were extinguished at once. Only one Chinaman was killed: he was smoking his opium pipe when the house fell down and buried him .- Mercury Correspond-

NINGPO.

2nd November.

A crisp wind and a few bright days have wonderfully altered the appearance of the country. The Chinese are gathering in as much of their paddy as possible, and if this weather continues the later crops will ripen and the threatened deditution be but as a passed unpleasant dream. But the Community! alas! Mr. Smith has come back to us, and Mr. and Mrs. Mompsen are new arrivals; plenty of new blood may yet rejuvenate Ningpo. For the present a visitor would he puzzled to know which was the tennis ground and waich the public (weed P) garden. The shooting season commences. Wild fowl are now to be seen. Presently we shall have strange sportsmen in our midst (the family hotelscheme has not altogether dropped through) and then, perhaps, a code will be formulated. When show, and what to shoot and who shall be the gunners. That "son of neptune" (or any Cruickshank & Co. .. of his congeners) who bagged tame ducks last season will be warmly welcomed by their owner

DICTIONARY

WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo Chinese Dictionary, published at Dailu Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service freckles, sunburn, tan, &c., and produces a this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous oba jects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast soope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration: Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst

Again, despite all the grammars and more trouble in the end. other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitheric pub-For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested at China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-It comprises upwards of two thousand large
